NEIGHBORHOOD WATCH MEETINGS

A Neighborhood Watch meeting should be held annually, at a minimum, with the residents of your neighborhood.

When conducting these meetings, you should consider utilizing crime prevention programs as a means to develop community awareness and proper response to suspected or actual criminal activity.

Speakers from law enforcement, as well as from a wide range of community organizations, are valuable resources for Neighborhood Watch training.

REMEMBER

There are many ways in which the Neighborhood Watch concept can be put to use. One of the most important elements is ensuring that every person involved knows what to do when suspicious activity is noticed.

In addition, it provides residents with the opportunity to make their neighborhoods safer and to improve the quality of life. Neighborhood Watch groups typically focus on observation and awareness as a means of preventing crime. They employ strategies that range from simply promoting social interaction and "watching out for each other" to active patrols by groups of residents.

SUSPICIOUS PERSONS

It is important to be alert to the activities of all nonresidents. Solicitors and repair people travel our streets frequently; however, criminals often disguise themselves as these workers. Law enforcement officials should be called to investigate persons who may be suspects in the following circumstances:

- Going door-to-door in a residential area, especially if a person goes to the rear of a residence or loiters in front of an unoccupied house (burglary).
- Forcing entry or entering an unoccupied house (burglary, theft, or trespassing).
- Running, especially if carrying something of value or unwrapped property at an unusual hour (fleeing the scene of a crime).
- Before talking with solicitors, remember to request their credentials or permits/authority to represent a product or company.
- Screaming (rape or assault).
- Heavy traffic to and from a residence, particularly if it occurs on a daily basis (drug dealing, vice, or fence operation).

- Loitering around or peering into cars/homes (larceny or theft).
- Loitering around schools, parks or secluded areas (sex offender).
- Offering items for sale at an unusually low price (trying to sell stolen property).
- Loitering or driving through a neighborhood repeatedly or appearing as a delivery person with a wrong address (burglary).

RECOGNIZING SUSPICIOUS ACTIVITY

- Be alert – anything that seems slightly out of place or is occurring at an unusual time of day could be criminal activity.
- Do not attempt to apprehend a person committing a crime. Call Chesterfield County Police immediately. Do not worry about being embarrassed if your suspicions prove to be unfounded. The police would rather investigate than be called when it is too late. Persistence is essential in reporting suspicious activities. The following incidents may indicate criminal activity and should be reported:
- Continuous repair operations at a non-business location could be stolen property being altered.
- Open or broken doors and windows at a closed business or unoccupied residence could be burglary or vandalism.
- Unusual noises, such as gunshots, screaming, or dogs barking continuously could be burglary, assault, or rape.
- Sound of breaking glass could be burglary or vandalism.
- A person exhibiting unusual mental or physical symptoms could mean that the person is injured, under the influence of drugs, or in need of medical attention.

Time and accuracy are critical in reporting crime or suspicious events. Call 911 for emergencies or 748-1251 for non-emergencies.

SUSPICIOUS VEHICLES

Vehicles in the following situations MAY be involved in crimes and should be reported to authorities:

- Slow moving without lights, vehicle making repeated passes at a location (burglar, drug dealer, or sex offender).
- Parked or occupied, containing one or more persons, especially at an unusual hour (lookouts for a burglary or robbery).
- Parked by a business or unoccupied residence, being loaded with valuables (burglary or theft).
- Abandoned in your neighborhood (stolen car).
- Containing weapons (criminal activity).
- Someone, especially a female or juvenile, being forced into a vehicle (kidnapping, assault, or attempted rape).
- Business transactions taking place in a vehicle, especially in a parking lot (drug deal, theft of car or its contents).
- People detaching mechanical parts or accessories from it (theft or vandalism).
- Object being thrown from it (disposing of contraband).

REPORTING EVENTS, VEHICLES, AND PERSONS

As a Neighborhood Watch meeting activity, practice the skills required to quickly and accurately record descriptions and facts associated with suspicious or criminal activities. Write down the details and observations while they are still fresh in your mind so that the information provided to the police will be as accurate as possible.

Describing Events

- What happened.
- When it happened.
- Where it occurred (note the nearest cross street, home address, or landmark in relationship to the event).

- Whether injuries are involved (Be prepared to report visible or suspected personal injury. Be as specific as possible – this could save a life).
- Whether weapons are involved (this information, whether observed or suspected, is vital to responding officers).

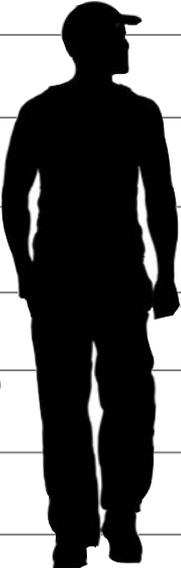

Describing Vehicles

- Vehicle license number and state, make and type of vehicle, color, and approximate year.
- Special designs or unusual features, such as unique wheels, body damage, pinstripes, etc.
- Direction of travel.

Describing Person

In preparing descriptions of persons, it is important to write down the following:

Sex	Race
Age	Height
Weight	Hair (color & length)
Hat	Glasses
Facial hair (beard/mustache)	Shirt/Tie
Trousers	Shoes
Tattoos/Scars	Voice characteristics
Direction of movement

HOME SECURITY MEASURES

- Use a timer to automatically turn a living room light on at dusk, especially if you are going to be away at that time.
- Leave a loud radio on tuned to talk radio when leaving home, even for short periods.
- Always close and lock garage doors.
- Secure your automatic garage door transmitter in glove compartment of your car.
- Secure all points of entry to your home; pretend you are the burglar, stand outside your home, and plan how you would get in.
- Lock up all ladders, ropes, or tools that could help a burglar gain entry.
- Keep all shrubbery trimmed near your doors and windows; do not provide concealment or climbing platforms for the burglar.
- Brightly illuminate all of your home's entrances.
- Keep your grass cut, leaves raked, etc. to indicate a well cared for and occupied home.
- Empty your mailbox or arrange to have it emptied every day.
- Install new deadbolt locks when moving into an apartment or previously owned home.
- Avoid displaying valuable items near windows with open drapes or shades.
- Keep extra keys with a trusted friend or neighbor; never hide a key outside, as most hiding places are obvious to burglars.
- Never leave a note on the door explaining why you are not at home.
- Never leave doors or windows unlocked when leaving home.
- Start a "buddy system" with your neighbors in order to watch each other's home; watch for "movers" or "repair people" at a house where no one is home.
- Burglars usually seek the easiest target. Take steps to make your house less vulnerable.

VACATIONING

- If you decided not to cancel your paper or mail deliveries, ask your neighbor to pick them up every day.
- Leave a key with a friend or neighbor, and ask that your house be checked periodically.
- Keep a current inventory of jewelry, power tools, etc.
- Call police at 748-1258 for “Vacation Keep Checks.” Police will check on your house periodically.
- Consider asking friends or relatives to stay in your home while you are away.
- Leave a car in the driveway or ask neighbors to park in it.
- Use “call forwarding” if available in your area. It can give callers the impression that residents are home when they are actually away by transferring your incoming calls to another telephone number. Your local phone company can provide you with further information.

TELEPHONE SECURITY

- Never give personal information (name, age, address, credit card or Social Security number, etc.) to a stranger on the telephone.
- Never tell a strange caller when you will or will not be home.
- Never let an unknown caller know you are home alone. Instruct babysitters not to tell callers that they are home alone with children.
- Teach children not to tell an unfamiliar caller that their parents are not home.

HOME SECURITY INSPECTIONS

One of the most effective ways to educate Neighborhood Watch participants to protect their property is to arrange for detailed security assessments of their homes.

The Chesterfield County Police Department's Crime Prevention Section can assist you in this effort and can provide Watch members with home security inspections. To request a free home security assessment, please call 318-8699.

DEALING WITH INTRUDERS

- Always survey your home as you approach it. If you notice evidence that someone has broken in, DO NOT ENTER; call the police department.
- If you encounter a suspicious person, get out of his way; do not try to stop him. Call the police as soon as it is safe to do so.
- If you are in your home and someone is prowling outside, call the police immediately.
- If an intruder has already broken in, retreat and put other doors between the two of you.
- If you cannot get out, try to signal a neighbor by throwing something through a window; the noise may frighten a burglar away.
- If someone enters your bedroom while you are in bed, pretend that you are asleep as long as he does not come near you.
- If the intruder is armed, do what he says and see that children do so as well. Remain calm. Intruders generally want your property rather than your life.
- Memorize a description of the intruder and write it down immediately after he has left, then call the police department.

PROPER DISASTER/CRISIS PLANNING

September 11, 2001, started out as any other day, but ended with a world of change. Being prepared for disaster requires proper planning.

In the event of a crisis, whether a man-made event or a natural disaster, communities may be required to be self-sufficient for a period of time.

“Are you Ready?” provides a step-by-step approach to disaster preparedness by walking the reader through how to be informed about local emergency plans, how to identify hazards that affect their local area, and how to develop and maintain an emergency communications plan and disaster supply kit.

Call 1-800-480-2520 or visit www.fema.gov/areyouready.

COMMUNITY EMERGENCY RESPONSE TEAM

CERT training is designed to prepare people to help themselves, their families, their neighbors, and their workplaces in the event of a disaster. If a disaster overwhelms or delays local emergency personnel, CERT volunteers may assist by applying the basic response and organizational skills they learned during training.

More than 1,000 residents have completed Chesterfield’s initial CERT training. These volunteers participate in outreach events, disaster exercises, and continuing education training throughout the year. Classes are offered several times a year and are free. For more information, please visit www.chesterfield.gov/CERT/ or call the CERT Coordinator at 804-751-CERT.

Chesterfield County’s CERT program is sponsored by the Chesterfield Citizens Corps Council—Chesterfield Emergency Planning Committee. Support and direction are provided by Chesterfield Fire and EMS through the Office of Emergency Management.

KEEP IT GOING AND GROWING

When crime drops or the neighborhood problems abate, some programs lose momentum. To keep a Neighborhood Watch program vital, blend crime prevention into other community concerns.

Have your group identify the neighborhood’s strengths and weaknesses, and then brainstorm what members can do to improve the quality of community life.
